RESEARCH INTERESTS

We want to create an intelligent system that can help users in many situations such as: assistance, sales, etc... The first step in our work is to understand the needs of users. To solve this problem, we treat it as a double-layer labeling and intent analysis problem. In a second step, our research focus is on the dialogue conversation, a dialogue management will manage the conversation flow and a 'Natural Language Generation (NLG)' engine produces the most intelligent response.
